MARIN COUNTY SEEKING SENIOR PEER COUNSELORS

Are you 55 or older and looking for a volunteer commitment that will provide the opportunity for personal growth? The Marin County Senior Peer Counseling program is seeking committed, compassionate volunteers to provide supportive counseling to seniors in Marin. The Peer Counseling Program will offer its six-week training session, beginning in mid-February 2019. The program provides supportive counseling to seniors in Marin County.

Volunteers will receive education on issues of aging, training in basic counseling skills and extensive information on community resources. Trained volunteers make weekly visits to clients in their homes, and help them deal with aspects of aging while providing emotional support and practical resources to help comfort and empower them. Weekly group supervisions led by a mental health professional provide volunteers with support to be successful in their role. For more information, please contact Rachel Gila, R.N. Rgila@marincounty.org or 415-473-2871.

I  AgeSong Marin
Jean Gunn, Novato Village

A few years ago, a friend turned me on to AgeSong Marin, and after participating in one of their groups I started feeling even more positive about growing older and really enjoying life.

Our group included eight women and men in their sixties through nineties and we met every week for two months. We were informally led by two supportive facilitators who shared insightful readings, many related to this unique stage of our lives.

We would then talk about our reactions to the readings, which often grew into terrific discussions about what was going on in our lives. For me, the experience of AgeSong was transformative. It widened my circle of friends, and it opened my mind to all the many choices that are in the realm of possibility for me.

Throughout time, humans have been storytellers. It's those stories that help us maintain the memory of who we were and who we are now. Sharing stories and memories makes sense of our lives and helps us see patterns which integrate our life experiences. AgeSong offers a unique opportunity to connect with others and ourselves through our stories.

- AgeSong Marin website

AgeSong groups meet in locations throughout Marin and the fee for participation is affordable (plus, scholarships are available.) And here's some really good news....Marin Village members and volunteers receive a 25% discount.

Check out AgeSong Marin's website agesongmarin.org (it's packed with lots of good information) or call (415) 234-5040.
